Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

- i) In claims 1-3, the intended use of a compound does not have any patentability weight. Deletion of the phrase “for inhibiting the activity of PARP” is suggested.
- ii) In claims 1-3, the phrase “and pharmaceutically acceptable salts thereof” is not proper Markush language. The phrase “or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt thereof” is suggested.
- iii) Claims 25-27 are not presented as proper pharmaceutical composition claims. These claims are the same as the compound because they miss the required carrier.
- iii) The structural formula in claims 1-4 do not have all of the atoms present. Thus, the nitrogens and phosphorous are missing the appropriate radical. For search and examination purposes it is assumed that the missing groups are hydrogens. Appropriate correction is required.

Claims 5-24 provide for the use of a compound, but, since the claims do not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claims 5-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd. App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Art Unit: 1624

Claims 30-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claims contain subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claims 30-32 are drawn to the treatment of cancer. The specification does not provide enablement for the treatment of cancer generally. No compound has ever been found that can treat cancers generally even though massive efforts have been directed towards this end. Since this assertion is contrary to what is known in oncology, proof must be provided that this revolutionary assertion has merits. Nearly all anticancer drugs are effective against only a limited group of related cancers. Therefore, a compound effective against cancer generally would be a revolutionary exception. Applicant is asserting that he succeeded where others have failed. Where extensive efforts have all failed, it is reasonable for the Patent and Trademark Office to require proof that the claimed invention actually works for this specific utility. It is well established that a utility rejection is proper when scope of enablement is not reasonably correlated to the scope of the claims. (In re Vaeck 20 USPQ2d 1439, 1444, In re Ferens 163 USPQ 609).

In re Buting 163 USPQ 689 establishes that even clinical tests showing that a compound found to be useful in the treatment of two types of cancers was not sufficient for a much broader range.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 1624

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 25, 28 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Webber et al. (US 6,495,541). The claim reads on the compound of column 21, line 45.

Claim 2 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Webber et al. (US 6,548,494). The claim reads on the compound of Example 141 disclosed in column 141, lines 35-55.

Claims 3 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Webber et al. (US 6,548,494). The claim reads on the compound of column 13, lines 1-15. See also Example 58, column 74.

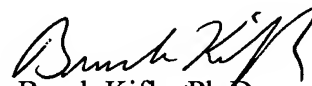

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Canan-Koch et al. (WO 2004/087713 which has US 2004/0248879 as equivalent). The claim reads on the phosphate salt described in page 2, paragraph 2 of the reference.
